

Another Morning Blues

Another morning blues I wake up
Looking for my shoes and I make up my mind
To stay another day
Loving you just seems so easy
Your front porch is so shady and breezy
I'll let the birds do the flyin' away

Chorus:

Baby it's strange the way my plans get re-arranged
Whenever I hear ya'
Or start to get near ya'
Or feel you coming up close to me

I always thought I was born to wander
But lately I've been growing fonder of you
Than I'd intended to
Now it's come the time for leaving
Oh baby who am I deceiving? It's true
I'd rather stay with you

Chorus:

Baby it's strange the way my plans get re-arranged
Whenever I hear ya'
Or start to get near ya'
Or feel you coming up close to me

Another morning blues I wake up
Looking for my shoes and I make up my mind
To stay another day
Loving you just seems so easy
Your front porch is so shady and breezy
I'll let the birds do the flyin' away
